It's a boring post, but there's a lot that can be discussed. I'll try to be as clear as possible to avoid further confusion. We need to get rid of the mandate and add a 10% excise tax on silver, as this would make it easier to track and the new currency would not be inflated by the IMF. This currency is needed to pay for the overhead for silver mining, and the loss of profit. The tax could be lost in the middle and should be much higher than the silver price, but I don't know how much people will pay, so I'll talk about the tax being 5-10% of the price. However the tax doesn't even need to be fixed. It can be a sneaky way to get people to own silver without them knowing, and control the price through large scale mining. The new currency would be worth the same as the USD or any other currency, and the people who invested in silver will easily recoup their loss. The government cannot tax the people, the people are already taxed enough. The answer to all this will be obvious,
